NEW SENSATION LOOMS IN HAUPTMANN CASE

'Millions' Lured Townsend, Is Charge

INDICTMENTS OF MARGETT ARE BARED

San Francisco Manager Once Charged With Grand Larceny

WASHINGTON, April 1. (AP)—A written statement by Dr. F. E. Townsend that "it looks to me as if there might be millions in it" was submitted today to the house committee investigating the Townsend old age pension plan.

The statement was made in a letter to Robert E. Clements, resigned national secretary and co-founder of the movement. In a letter Dr. Townsend urged sending out organizers to "obtain membership wholesale."

James R. Sullivan, the committee's counsel, commented that the reason Dr. Townsend did not want to replace Edward J. Margett, San Francisco area manager, as suggested by Clements, "was because Margett was one of the best producers."

Clements testified that he, together with Dr. Townsend and the doctor's brother, Walter L. Townsend, porter in a Hollywood hotel, were the incorporators of Old Age Revolving Pensions, Ltd.

The witness denied intimations by Sullivan that Walter Townsend was used as a "dummy" in the incorporation.

Clements also denied Sullivan's intimation they "shopped around" among lawyers trying to find a particular section of the California law which would "fit into the picture."

Could Dissolve Corporation

The former secretary was emphatic in his denial the incorporators knew they could dissolve the corporation at any time and "divide up whatever was in the till."

He said they were so advised a year or more after incorporation in early 1934. Clements conceded under questioning that they knew the assets of the corporation belonged to them and said they concealed it "as a trust."

Three indictments returned against Margett were submitted to the committee by Sullivan.

Sullivan said two indictments charged grand larceny and the other, in King county, Washington, charged him with "accepting the earnings of a common prostitute."

Collins Votes 'No'

Clements said he had no knowledge of the nature of the indictments, but conceded, under questioning, they probably were the basis of complaints he had received about Margett.

Borah Enters New Jersey Race

WASHINGTON, April 1. (AP)—Senator Borah decided today to extend his primary campaign for the Republican presidential nomination to New Jersey.

Whether supporters of Governor Landen of Kansas would enter him in the primaries, in view of indications that such would be the case if Borah went in. If this happens, the New Jersey contest will be the first and possibly the only one in the primaries between the two.

New Jersey will send 32 delegates to the Cleveland convention. The primary will be held May 19.

COW-KILLING DOGS DOOMED

Three to Be Executed Today

Three dogs belonging to Ben Yorba, Santa Ana canyon, were to be executed today. They were charged with the murder of cattle belonging to Fred Bixby whose ranch adjoins the Yorba ranch.

According to a report filed yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Steve Duhart, farm theft detail, the three condemned dogs had attacked some of Mr. Bixby's cows, maiming some of them and killing others. He interviewed the dogs' owner, and explained the situation to him. The three dogs were present at the time. One is a bulldog, another a Great Dane, and the third a police dog.

Mr. Yorba looked at his pets. The three of them were playing around his feet. He shook his head sadly.

"Well, I don't want to have trouble with my neighbors," he is reported to have said. "If my dogs have been killing Mr. Bixby's cows, of course I will have to kill my dogs. Mr. Bixby and I are good friends, and I will see if I can in some way pay for the damage my dogs have done."

Retirement Voted 3 County Teachers

Three Orange county school teachers were retired on pension today by the state board of education sitting in Los Angeles as ex-officio members of the teachers retirement salary board. They are Lena E. Brokaw, 416 West Pine street, Santa Ana, with 40 years of service; Mary Hall, Santa Ana, 39 years; and Mrs. Oleata Boling, Fullerton, 24 years. The ministry's action authorizes him to fly in the British Isles until Dec. 31—but not "for hire or reward."

Lindy Has Permit To Fly in Britain

LONDON, April 1. (AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, who voluntarily has remained on the ground during his three-months' residence in England, won the British government's permission today to return to the air.

Upon the American's personal application, the air ministry validated his United States' pilot's license No. 69, issued by the department of commerce. The ministry's action authorizes him to fly in the British Isles until Dec. 31—but not "for hire or reward."

COUNTY VOTE LIST LED BY DEMOCRATS

G. O. P. Is Outnumbered By 632, Registration Figures Reveal

By a margin of 632, Democrats outnumber Orange county Republicans in registration for the preferential presidential primaries to be held May 5, it was revealed today, as final registration figures were announced by County Clerk J. M. Backs.

Although still below the high registration mark of approximately 66,000 set two years ago, Mr. Backs announced, this year's figures are unusually high, 60,015 voters having signed the roll.

Three Communists

Of these, 29,380 registered Democratic, as opposed to the 28,748 Republicans. The "red menace" in Orange county was trebled, three registering in the Communist party as opposed to one in the previous registration.

Other parties and registrations in the county were: Socialists, 102; Prohibition, 341; Non-partisan, 208; Independent, 39; Progressive, 12; Democrat-Townsend, 1; Townsend, 5; Farm-Labor, 2; Progressive-Republican, 3; American, 1; Declined to state, 116.

Democrats Lead Here

In Santa Ana the Democratic party still led by a margin of 8487 to 8052. In Anaheim the Democratic party was slightly in front, by a margin of 2600 to 2568, and in Fullerton the Republicans lead, by 2610 to 2409. A large Republican majority was evidenced in Orange, where the G. O. P. had

Attorney Burke Makes Charges; Mulherron Gives Denial

EARLY ORANGE EXPORT SEEN

Orange county citrus growers today were anticipating the start of export Valencia orange shipments in the next few weeks. As soon as the sugar content of the fruit is up to standardization requirements, shipments can begin.

Agricultural Commissioner D. W. Tubbs said today he does not believe shipments can start before two weeks, in view of recent tests of the sugar content of the fruit. The oranges must show eight parts of solids or sugar to one part of citric acid to meet the standard required. Recent tests showed the highest mark to be 7.8 to one, Mr. Tubbs said.

Last year export shipments started March 26, the earliest date on record. Usually it is the last of April or the first of May before exports begin.

Mulherron Investigates

The dinner referred to was staged by the Young Democrats club of Orange county at Armstrong's cafe on 101 highway several weeks ago.

Dan Mulherron, Orange county director for the WPA, said today he had investigated the charges and that the Young Democrats had told him they sold no tickets to anyone under pressure. Mr. Mulherron said it is against the rules also to solicit for anything among WPA men on the job and that his investigation showed any solicitation of WPA workers was done at night. He said the Young Democrats told him most of the people asked to buy tickets rather than being solicited.

Cites More Charges

Mr. Burke's letter continued: "In another case one of your auditors, during the regular business day visited the men on various projects representing or with the consent of the dispenser of patronage requested or demanded that they sign a political petition. Many of these men and women signed against their free will in fear of losing their jobs. On one project the supervisor called her superior officer and was told that it was all right, he knew all about it."

Mr. Mulherron, in respect to this declaration, said that no one ever tried to compel a WPA worker to sign a petition against his will and that no one ever was forced to do so.

Movie Folk Fight Lone Pine Fire

LONE PINE, Calif., April 1. (AP)—A movie location crew of 100 men helped volunteer firefighters bring under control early today a blaze that threatened to destroy Lone Pine.

The fire, breaking out in the Mount Whitney restaurant opposite the hotel where the film company was quartered, quickly spread to a garage.

While Movie Star Errol Flynn, Director Michael Curtiz and others of the company manned the fire lines, tank trucks of Los Angeles and Lone Pine moved into action.

Fan Dancers Plan Convention to 'Elevate Ethics'

SAN DIEGO, April 1. (AP)—Western fan dancers will convene here April 11 for the purpose of "elevating the ethical standards" of their art and increasing its "prestige with the purity-loving public."

Seventeen more girls are expected to attend from Los Angeles, San Francisco, Phoenix and other western cities. They will honor Sally Rand, originator of the fan dance.

ITALIANS KILL 7000 BLACKS IN BATTLE

Great Victory at Lake Ashangi Told; Haile Leads Ethiopians

ROME, April 1. (AP)—Italy's northern army smashed through its first major victory over the troops of Haile Selassie—led by the emperor himself—Marshall Pietro Badoglio reported today in an official communiqué.

Badoglio announced that 7000

Ethiopians were killed and that the Italian forces had suffered more than 1000 casualties.

The Fascist commander-in-chief said the Ethiopian king of kings fought personally in the battle yesterday in the Lake Ashangi sector, 30 miles south of the former principal Italian front lines at Amba Alagi.

Simultaneously, the occupation of Gondar, strategic Ethiopian center near the British sphere of influence about Lake Tana to the west of the action on the central northern front was confirmed officially.

From information from prisoners," the Italian communiqué said, "it appeared that the Ethiopian troops participating in the Lake Ashangi battle numbered about 20,000. Emperor Haile Selassie personally participated in the attack on the Italians' left flank."

CURB SUNDAY LIQUOR SALE

Dealers Here Agree To Close Shop Until 2 in Afternoon

At the request of Chief of Police Floyd W. Howard, Santa Ana liquor dealers, including retail, wholesale and proprietors of cocktail bars, have agreed not to sell alcoholic drinks between closing time Saturday night and 2 p. m. Sunday, according to an announcement made by the chief today. In making the announcement, Chief Howard predicted that in the near future there would be a state law prohibiting the sale of liquor on Sundays.

"There is no law at present which will permit me to force liquor dealers to close shop on Sunday," Chief Howard said. "This is not an order, but a request, and it is only through the cooperation of liquor dealers in Santa Ana that we are able to shut down on the sale of liquor between the closing hour Saturday night and 2 p. m. Sunday. I have contacted a majority of the dealers, and they have volunteered cooperation."

Chief Howard said he had also consulted local board of equalization officials and had obtained their endorsement of the plan. It was believed this is the first time that such a program has been attempted in a California city, although plans now are underway in other Southern California communities to close liquor houses on Sundays. This weekend will see the new plan go into effect in Santa Ana, Chief Howard said.

F. D. R. to Fish for Barracuda Words'

MIAMI, Fla., April 1. (AP)—Bronzed by the sun and ocean winds President Roosevelt cruised southwest from Nassau today eagerly intent upon fishing for the remainder of the week.

The national campaign seemed far from the President's thoughts as he talked with newspapermen yesterday aboard the U. S. Potomac in Nassau harbor. Mr. Roosevelt said he was going to a spot in the Atlantic known as the "tongue of the ocean"—a deep body of waters, surrounded by coral reefs. Asked if he was going to fish for some sharp campaign words there he smiled and quickly replied—"barracuda words." The barracuda is a vicious fish.

LIBRARY OKHEDED FOR LAHABRA

A new public library at La Habra was virtually assured today, while continuation of the county's park project in Santiago creek was made certain by approval for the work by President Roosevelt. Both jobs are Works Progress administration projects.

Dan Mulherron, WPA head here, said the money will be available for starting the projects within 10 days, and the only question about a starting date is the availability of labor. He said it probably will be 30 days before men are released from other projects to start on the new ones.

The library project will involve a federal expenditure of $11,078, the sponsor's share of the cost being $4043.

The park project will be financed by $45,870 in federal funds and $11,690 of county money.

Quinn Named State Veterans Director

SACRAMENTO, April 1. (AP)—Governor Merriam today announced the appointment of John R. Quinn of Los Angeles as director of military of veterans affairs to succeed Thomas M. Foley, who in turn was named a municipal judge in San Francisco.

Quinn, former national commander of the American Legion, resigned as Los Angeles county supervisor, to take the state job. Leeland M. Ford of Santa Monica, was appointed supervisor to fill the vacancy. Foley takes the place on the bench left by the death of Judge Leo Murasky.

Spreckels Case Goes to Trial

LOS ANGELES, April 1. (AP)—Arguments over who will be the "stockholder" of more than $1,000,000 held in trust for John D. Spreckels III, sugar family heir, started in superior court today in the suit of his young wife, Gloria Roxana Spreckels, for divorce and $100 a month alimony.

Lynching Here Is Recalled

By ROCH BRADSHAW

Delay the execution? They didn't do things that way in Santa Ana in 1892. There wouldn't have been any postponement of death for Bruno Richard Hauptmann then, if he had been awaiting his fate in Santa Ana.

He probably would have dangled from a telegraph pole at the northeast corner of Fourth and Sycamore streets.

That was the way 30 masked and armed men dealt with Francisco Torres. And he wasn't a kidnaper, either. But he was killed. And he was lynched.

The Torres "necktie party" was the only such affair in the history of Orange county. Torres worked as a laborer at Madame Modjes-ka's ranch in Santiago canyon.

His foreman was William McElvey. In those days, so the story goes, there was a poll tax to be collected. The money was kept out of Torres' wages. He didn't like it, and blamed McElvey.

Linn L. Shaw has related the tragedy in Samuel Arnoux's history of Orange county. He recalled that McElvey was brutally murdered by Torres on July 31, 1892. Torres fled and was captured about two weeks later at the Grande. He was returned here.

HITLER OFFERS NEW TERMS TO KEEP EUROPEAN PEACE

(Copyright, 1936, by Associated Press)

BERLIN, April 1.—Adolf Hitler, in a memorandum to British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden proposed today negotiations covering a period of four months for what might be termed a new Locarno, replacing the pact broken by Germany.

During these negotiations, Der Fuehrer suggested, Germany, France and Belgium should accept control of their frontiers by a commission of one representative from Great Britain, Italy and one neutral power.

Both sides—Germany, which re-militarized the Rhineland in violation of the Locarno pact, and France and Belgium—should refrain from casting aspersions on each other, either in publications, public utterances or teachings.

The French government also wants an answer to the questions of Pierre-Etienne Flandin, foreign minister, on March 29, in which he asked whether Hitler really would renounce aggressive intentions in Memel and Pomorze and his intention toward the former German colonies, these official sources said.

These negotiations, with neither side to increase its military forces along the border zone, would be followed by a general conference for limitation of armaments.

The terms, offering Hitler's way out of the Rhineland impasse, were disclosed today after Joachim von Ribbentrop, Der Fuehrer's ambassador-at-large, carried men to London to be presented to Eden.

Three S. A. Men Placed on Governing Group at Annual Session

By T. N. (BRICK) GAINES

THE SEAL question is settled. For some time we've been carrying on a one-sided debate about the good and bad (mostly good) points of killing seals.

Now comes an attack from one who signs himself "Old Pop Neptune," or "The Ancient Mariner, In Three Acts." He paints a beautiful picture of the home life of the seal. Thusly:

All this idle talk of shooting seals because they eat fish!

Seals are mammals. Almost any day this time of the year you can see a mammal seal loafing along through the water with a little baby seal loafing along too. Mammal seals and baby seals are a very touching sight. Of course they eat fish, but what's one man's sport may be a mammal seal's livelihood. And what's sause for the goose is just a day's work for a mammal seal. Or a baby seal.

Fish eat fish, too. I don't know what sardines eat, and I don't know what anchovies eat, but I suspect its microcosms. But bonita and bass and halibut and yellowtail and such like eat sardines and anchovies, and then sharks and jewfish and tarpon and such like eat bonita and bass and yellowtail and halibut, and something probably eats them, and then we eat everything. Even sardines, anchovies and patie de foie gras.

Except seals. We don't eat mammal seals and baby seals, we just shoot them so they won't eat the fish that eat each other and then we eat. Are you still with me?

How would you like it if seals stopped eating fish and started eating us?

Just think if all those mammal seals and poppet seals got tired of being shot at and started an army. It would be all our lives were worth to go fishing, which is all the seals are doing.

If we went fishing we would also be going fished for, which is what happens to the fish and to the mammal and poppet seals, and what with stringing an anchovy through a hook and landing a pound yellowtail and a watching out for irate mammal and poppet seals with whiskers in their faces and blood in their eyes, what a time we'd have.

We've crazy people anyway. When there are lots of bait fish we yell because there's no fish to eat the bait fish and get themselves caught for various purposes. And when there are lots of big fish they scare away the bait fish, and then if there aren't any bait fish there aren't any big fish, and about the only thing we're sure of having is a couple of mammal seals and maybe a poppet seal so we blame the whole thing on them.

When as a matter of fact if we'd quit going around shooting at seals and shoot at a couple of purse seiners we wouldn't be any worse off and we might be better off. Because even a whole family of mammal seals, poppet seals, aunts seals and uncle seals with some baby seals thrown in couldn't eat as many fish, big or little, as a purse seiner can dish up in a hurry.

Not that I care.

If it wasn't for the fact that he signed himself Old Pop Neptune, we'd be inclined to think that Reporter Bob Guild, fellow scribe, was responsible for the effort. Maybe he was, anyway.

Fair Discussed

The question of an Orange county fair at the San Diego regional camporal of Boy Scouts May 29-30-31 in Irvine park were held over for discussion at the next meeting, which will be held at Newport Beach.

S. H. Strathman, Placentia, invited members to attend the annual meeting of the Associated Farmers of Orange County, Inc., in the Santa Ana Ebell club at 6:30 p.m. Friday. Other announcements were made by Leslie Kimmel, Laguna Beach, who told of the Garden club's flower show there April 3-4 and by Harry May, who told of a Hospitality night planned for April 12 in Fullerton.

The new president, Dr. Huston, spoke briefly, telling of his aims for the organization and urging close co-operation and understanding from all members of the organization.

GARDEN GROVE—An educational program, sponsored by the Cooperative Association of Garden Grove, has been started with three classes already formed and more to start in the near future, it has been announced here. All classes are open to the public.

Classes already organized are Co-operative History and the principles and working plans of the Rochdale Co-operative of England, sewing and home economics, and agriculture. The history class will meet on Wednesday evening at the Legion hall with Edward P. Totten, Los Angeles, as instructor.

The sewing and home economics class will meet at Legion hall Monday afternoons from 3:30 to 5 o'clock with Blanche Palmer,

Johnson Speaks

Serious doubts that the present by-laws of the organization, adopted at the February meeting of the group, would be of benefit to the county chamber group, were expressed by V. D. Johnson.

The by-laws exclude the farm bureaus, newspapers and others who were formerly members, from a voice in affairs, allowing voting membership only to local chambers of commerce.

A member of the constitutional committee, Mr. Johnson said that he felt there had been a big mistake in that portion of the constitution and asked members to consider the matter carefully. No action was asked on the matter.

Urge Local Control

Urging local control of governmental functions, Supervisor W. C. Jerome spoke on the tax situation in California, pointing out that delegation of authority in distant points adds to the taxation burden.

"If we can bring our government to where we can look at it," he said, "and say we do want this and don't want that, then and only then, can we think about doing something toward reduction of taxes."

Musical numbers were provided by A. J. Kelly and Dewey Hubbard with violins, accompanied by Mrs. Jake Carr and Elva Ralston and Lillian Crane sang, accompanied by Miss. Oneta Ames.

Announcement was made that R. E. Higley, Chicago, who is spending the winter in Los Angeles, will speak and sing at the April 13 meeting. Harvey Allen, a past president of the club who was seriously injured in an auto accident two weeks ago, was reported as showing a slight gain and has been removed to a sanitarium at Los Alamitos.

Reports Heard

Included in annual committee reports was that on harbor development by Harry Welch, who told of completion of the dredging program and a celebration planned May 22-24 for formal opening of the $2,000,000 project. Short reports were given by V. D. Johnson on publicity; Ralph Irwin, industrial; Walter Meyer, transportation; and Judge Dodge, water.

GARDEN GROVE—A talk on past and present government administration and the capitalistic system was given before members of the Garden Grove Townsend club Monday evening by F. L. Carrier, Santa Ana. The vice president, August Ziegler, presided.

Orange county agriculture did a $30,000,000 business in 1935, Jack Crill, reporting for the agriculture committee, told members. He predicted better citrus prices for the coming season, pointing out that the state's crop will be 10,000,000 boxes smaller than in the past year.

P.T.A. Board Has Meeting

GARDEN GROVE—Victor McClain, history instructor at the Garden Grove High school, who spent much of his boyhood in India, spoke to members of the Monday Afternoon Star club when they met this week at the home of Mrs. Emma Kearns, Magnolia road. His talk was on the people and conditions of the country, interwoven with interesting personal experiences.

Co-hostesses at the meeting were Mrs. Mabel Doig and Mrs. Camille Nichols. Miss Gertrude Jentges, a guest, and Mrs. Maggie Mae Reed won prizes. Other guests were Mrs. J. M. Burtenshaw, Lebanon, Ore., and Mrs. E. A. Wakeham.

Members attending were Messes Alice Smith, Mae L. Henry, Gee Newson, Mae Pearson, Dorothy Jentges, Mary Clark, Mary Ritchey, Dorothy Thornburg, Ethel Schauer, Anna Nearing, Ada Perkins, Lida Mitchell, Clara Carmichael, Helen Woodworth, Mertie Fulsom, Louise Lake and Mabel Williams.

Mesa Club Plans Art Exhibit

COSTA MESA—All work done by the arts and crafts section of the Costa Mesa Woman's Friday Afternoon club will be on display at the clubhouse next Friday afternoon.

Miss Perry, supervisor of arts and crafts in Orange county schools, will talk on those subjects during the meeting. A musical program will be given.

Electon of officers for the ensuing year will be the principal business of the day, it was announced by Mrs. J. O. Tallman, president.

Frank Davenport, general chairman and Frank Crocker, chief of the local fire department, are in charge of plans for the event.

Fishing Trip

From Fireside

Let's go fishing.
No, let's stay home and read the paper.

All right, let's do both.

Old Column Left will take you on an angling tour while you sit at home, comfortably tucked up in slippers, hiding behind your favorite newspaper.

Every fisherman has his choice, but we've got to be non-partisan on this expedition, so we'll just "fish" for every kind of fish you can snag off the glorious coast of Orange county.

Just as a starter let's toss our lines out from the sand for a corbina or two. This species is one of the most exclusive of the piscatorial family and to catch one is not only a very, very happy adventure but brings a badge of merit to the lucky Ike Walton. They're choice eating, and you should know that it is contrary to law to catch Mr. Corbina with nets, or even to sell or buy him. You gotta catch him yourself. Record books say they are caught the year around from Point Conception to Gulf of California, but very few have been snagged around here yet. The boys are using razor edge clams as bait.

Corbina, by the way, is his correct name. There are those who will call him California whiting, Corvina and surf fish, but official records say they are wrong.

You can distinguish a corbina by the single small spine at the front of the anal fin; the two dorsal fins being connected by a low membrane; the lateral line extending to the tail fin; the absence of teeth on the roof of mouth and the tip of the snout projecting beyond the lower jaw. Color is metallic, steel blue on the back, shading into gray on the side and white below. Is sometimes as large as 18 or 20 inches.

While we're on the beach we might as well have a try for a yellowfin croaker—same family as the corbina and just about as exclusive. But not quite so choice a morsel. Caught in the same manner, close to shore. Look about like corbina except that they are fatter and their metallic gray color has a greenish tinge; no upper teeth and lower jaw sticks out like Max Baer's chin—although not as far as a corbina.

Spotfin croaker belong in this family too and if you can tell a spotfin croaker from a plain croaker you're an expert and have no business on this amateur fishing trip. Spotfin are larger than their cousins, though. He sometimes is erroneously called golden croaker. Maybe that's a clue.

Halibut—just as well have a look. Said to be most available north of the Mexican May and south of the border between February and April. The Dons trek to Pomona next week and then to Riverside for the annual all-conference festival. Koepsel, fully recovered from the flu, will rule in standup in the century and furlong, and should breeze through the 220 as strongly as he does the 100. Little Boyd, consistent collector of points, may win both hurdle chases. Anderson and Fries have been conceded no better than second in their events, the quarter-mile and two-mile respectively.

Track lovers will eye one of the Southland's greatest jaysee distance kings in Bill Smith, who negotiates the two-mile grind of eight laps under 10 minutes.

By sweeping the 16-pound shot, Santa Ana is charted to break even with the visiting delegation afield, 27-27. The Dons are doped to pick up their winning margin of three points in the running events, 40 to 37.

Four Santa Anans Make Last Appearances on Local Cinder Path

By PAUL WRIGHT

Poly field will carry the spike marks of four sterling competitors—Vernon Koepsel, Frank Boyd, Major Anderson and Joe Fries—for the last time tomorrow when A. J. (Bill) Cook's Santa Ana Juniors' collegians combat San Bernardino's Braves in an Eastern conference dual meet on the Parton street oval at 4 p.m.

The Dons are counting on their graduating quartet of two sprinters, a hurdler and two-miler to carry them to victory—a slim victory—over Art Schaeffer's powerful ensemble from the Gate City.

Predicting a hammer-and-tongs battle for points, The Journal figures Santa Ana, by running real sonably to form, will emerge on top, 67 to 64. That's conceding the five points in the relay to San Bernardino—either by forfeit or actual competition.

It will be Santa Ana's last home appearance. The Dons trek to Pomona next week and then to Riverside for the annual all-conference festival.

Koepsel, fully recovered from the flu, will rule in standup in the century and furlong, and should breeze through the 220 as strongly as he does the 100. Little Boyd, consistent collector of points, may win both hurdle chases. Anderson and Fries have been conceded no better than second in their events, the quarter-mile and two-mile respectively.

Track lovers will eye one of the Southland's greatest jaysee distance kings in Bill Smith, who negotiates the two-mile grind of eight laps under 10 minutes.

Young Kramer underwent an operation for appendicitis not long ago, and it is doubtful whether he will compete the first half. He may be lost for the season.

Veteran "String" McDonnell (Anaheim) and Wilbur Stinchfield (Long Beach), pitchers; Mal Higgins (LB), 1b; Terry Griffith (LB), 2b; Charley Comstock (A) and Herman Kornder (LB), ss; Jerry Jerber (A) and Cliff Edmundson (LB), 3b; Fred Wieseman (A), cf; Leavitt Daley (Santa Ana), cf; and Jean Arreus (A), rf, were in suit with Catcher Wilcox last night. Daley, who was released by Santa Ana last season with the understanding he would go to Olive, was signed by Olive, in a surprise move two weeks ago.

Other Anaheim prospects out for the first drill were Ted Neja, Brooks Sackett, Roy Reno, Jim Jewett and Ben Hethcock. Anaheim is dickered for games with Covina and Riverside of the American league. The Valencias have arranged another inter-squad drill for Friday night.

Star Boats to Race at Newport

NEWPORT HARBOR, April 1. (AP)—Their eyes on the Berlin Olympics, 20 champions and more than 150 challengers lined up today for the national A. A. U. senior men's and women's swimming and diving meet at the Lake Shore athletic club.

Four 1936 champions will be crowned in tonight's opening program of the four-day meet. Katherine Rawls, all-around star, defends one of her three titles in the 100-yard free style event for women.

Jack Medica, greatest of the nation's free stylers, is a favorite to cop the 1500-meter swim, but Miami's Ralph Flanagan, who took from Medica last year, and Jimmy Gilhula of Southern California are expected to give the University of Washington star a battle.

Races will be held on a roadstead surveyed within Newport-Balboa's new $2,000,000 "greater harbor." Complete dates for the contests will be April 4, 5, 11 and 12.

Prime competition anticipated among 15 expected starters may settle into a first place battle between H. L. (Hook) Beardmore, with his world champion sloop By-C, and young Bob Ziegler, Long Beach, and his Win-Blu.

Anderson, Fowler Return to Bears

BERKELEY, April 1. (AP)—Capt. Bob Fowler, two-miler, and George Anderson, star sprinter, both out for this season with leg injuries and measles, practice this week with University of California's track and field squad.

Anderson, his injured knee still puffed up from a recent operation, jogged around the field yesterday. Coach Brutus Hamilton, however, doesn't expect his speedy short-distance runner to round into shape for nearly a month.

Hamilton said Fowler will turn up Friday or Saturday to try out his injured leg.

EXTRA POLICE SOUGHT FOR 'EASTER WEEK' AT NEWPORT-BALBOA

CHIEF TELLS PLANS FOR HOLIDAY

Officers From Pasadena, San Marino Invited to Visit Student Event

Police Chief R. R. Hodgkinson said he has invited South Pasadena, Pasadena and San Marino to send police officers to the beach city during the coming Easter school holidays when high school students will be spending vacations at the beaches. This was his answer to recent criticism of conditions at Newport and Balboa by persons in other towns.

Chief Hodgkinson said he had extended hospitality to these officers that they could see how the Newport police department handles the situation, and so they can assist if necessary.

"We aren't making any special preparations any more than we have in the past," said Chief Hodgkinson. "We will have about six extra officers on duty and will continue to enforce the law as we always have."

Several weeks ago letters were sent to parents at Orange by civic groups there, urging investigation before children were allowed to stage "Easter week" house parties at the beaches. The letters urged chaperones for such affairs also. It was pointed out that the letter was not a criticism of the beach cities but a plea to parents to look out for their youngsters.

Chief Hodgkinson said the police will enforce the law, but that it is impossible for his department to furnish chaperones for house parties.

Starts Suit to Collect $365.80

Silvestre Saragoza instituted suit in superior court yesterday against Jose Gallegos and Mrs. Gallegos, to satisfy a justice court judgment of $365.80 obtained a year ago against Gallegos.

Saragoza claims that after the judgment had been handed down he attempted twice to levy a claim against Gallegos' property, only to discover that he had transferred title to his wife. He asks that the debts be set aside and that judgment be made by sale of what property is necessary.

Historic Parley During Mexican War Took Place Near San Clemente

(In an effort to acquaint residents of Orange county with some of their most-prized historic possessions, The Journal is publishing a series of daily articles on county landmarks. These articles will describe their location and give historical facts concerning them. Today's article tells about a spot near San Clemente where historic parley during Mexican war took place.)

They were met by envoys of General Flores, who signed himself governor and captain general of the California department. It was proposed that hostilities in California be suspended and that the battle between the United States and Mexico be fought elsewhere. The offer was refused.

On this march Don Juan Foster, then a lealer at San Juan Capistrano, acted as guide to the Stockton and Kearney forces. On Jan. 3, 1847, the army camped at Las Flores. It next moved to Serra at the mouth of San Juan creek. On the following day it stopped at El Toro, then at Olive and finally at Los Coyotes ranch near Buena Park. The next day the troops moved on to the San Gabriel river in Los Angeles county.

Stephen Foster Medley Is Given Santa Ana Band for Recognition of Achievement

Practical appreciation of the achievement of the Santa Ana Municipal band, directed for the past two years by Leland Auer, was received by Director Auer this week from the Stephen Foster Hall, foundation for the perpetuation of the name of Stephen Foster.

A completely scored arrangement for band of 17 of the American composer's most famous airs was given the Santa Ana musical organization by the foundation, on request of Josiah K. Lilly, Indianapolis Ind., head of the Foster Hall.

Only to Larger Bands
Such arrangements have been distributed to representatives and outstanding large bands in other parts of the nation. Mr. Auer explained. The music excellently bound and beautifully arranged, has gone only to bands capable, in the opinion of the institute, of doing Foster's beautiful music full justice.

The letter from Mr. Lilly said, in part: "Please accept the thanks of Foster Hall for your kind expression regarding the Stephen Foster melodies. Foster Hall takes pleasure in issuing instructions that a copy of this band score be sent you. This is a medley of 17 Foster airs arranged for concert band by Louis Guzman, and was published by Foster Hall for free distribution to larger bands in the United States.

Concerts Open in June

The Foster melodies will be featured by the Santa Ana band in its regular summer concert series, which will open early next June in Birch park. A series of 12 concerts will again be given, Director Auer said, and weekly rehearsals are being held all during the remainder of the year in order to prepare an outstanding repertoire for the season.

The band, Mr. Auer explained, rehearses every Wednesday evening in the Santa Ana High school cafeteria, at 7:30 o'clock.

Musicians wishing to play in the group may come at any time for try-outs.

The organization is conducted as a regular unit of the Santa Ana adult education course, and gives credit toward high school graduation. It has a playing strength of about 35 pieces, and has won considerable praise for its excellent work in regular concert series and at other affairs.

CALL BOARD IN SUIT ON ADS

All members of the Orange county board of supervisors yesterday were served with subpoenas to appear on April 10 for the hearing on the petition for a preemptory writ of mandamus asked against County Auditor W. T. Lambert by James S. Farquhar, editor of the Huntington Beach News.

Mr. Farquhar instituted suit against the county auditor and members of the board to force issuance of warrants in payment for approximately $128 in advertising for the Oct. 12 water bond election. A total of about $5000 in unpaid bills with other county papers rests on the outcome of the case.

Presiding Judge G. K. Scovel, of the superior court, before whom the hearing will be held, set the date yesterday. Mr. Lambert has refused to pay the accounts as he claims that the board of supervisors exceeded its authority in authorizing the insertion of the advertising. Leo P. Fries and Thomas Kuchel, Anaheim attorneys, are representing the news-papers.

Youth Arrested on Driving Count

Marcas D. Vilanuevo, 17, of 219 South Franklin street, Santa Ana, chose the wrong time to drive his car in an erratic manner. On Monday, according to police reports, he was driving south on Orange avenue at approximately 45 miles an hour, and was weaving from one side of the road to the other.

Fire Marshal Gates happened along and followed the erratic driver for several blocks. As they traveled south, Fire Marshal Gates saw that dozens of children on their way to the circus were being endangered. Vilanuevo was stopped and taken to the police station where he was cited for reckless driving. Fire Marshal Gates signed the complaint. City Judge J. G. Mitchell certified the defendant over to the juvenile court.

CIVIL SERVICE PLANS HERE EXPLAINED

Proposed Ordinance to Affect Police and Firemen Outlined

As a result of numerous questions concerning the general setup of the civil service ordinance planned for the Santa Ana police and fire departments, and now under consideration by the city council, Assistant Chief of Police Harry Fink today outlined the proposed program.

"One of the principal criticisms expressed by persons apparently ignorant of the facts concerning our proposed civil service ordinance is that it will be conducive to laxity on the part of officers," Assistant Chief Fink said. "We are at present considering a plan whereby the chief can force an officer whom he believes to be inefficient to take a 30-day vacation without pay. That is the maximum, and there aren't many men on the force who will take a chance of such an enforced vacation."

Check on Officers

Assistant Chief Fink went on to explain that further infringements of rules under civil service may result in the filing of charges with the civil service board. His board has the power to recommend to the city council the dismissal of officers when sufficient cause is shown. The board itself is subject to the will of the council, and any member convicted of dereliction of duty may be dismissed after a hearing before the council.

The proposed ordinance provides that the civil service board shall consist of three men. One of those appointed shall serve for a term expiring Dec. 31, 1937. The term of the second appointee shall expire Dec. 31, 1938, and the third shall serve until Dec. 31, 1941. At the expiration of each term, a successor shall be appointed to serve for a term of six years.

Survey by Committee

The ordinance being considered by the council was prepared after several months of investigation by a committee consisting of three firemen and three members of the police force. Firemen who served on the committee were William Fox, John Garthe and D. H. Smith. The three police officers who completed the committee were Assistant Chief Fink, B. A. Raiguel, traveler and authoritative lecturer on international affairs.

These men visited cities throughout California where civil service is now in force. They studied the various methods and sought the aid of city officials in drawing up an ordinance for Santa Ana. This material was presented to City Attorney L. W. Blodget who ironed out the rough spots, choosing only the best parts from various ordinances studied. These were organized and used as a basis for the proposed ordinance in Santa Ana.

Only once in tour talks with Dr. Blodget did Mussolini show a dictatorial spirit, Dr. Raiguel told the Orange county forum last night at the lecture of the series in Fullerton High school auditorium. Calvin C. Flint, Santa Ana Junior college dean of men, introduced the speaker.

He Rules Parliament

"Parliament discusses what I tell it to, and nothing else," Dr. Raiguel said the premier snapped, when asked how he controlled parliament. Abolition of the Italian parliament last week and establishment of a corporate state was characterized by Dr. Raiguel as a revival of the medieval guild system mixed with syndicalist principles Mussolini at one time advocated.

The Italian-Ethiopian situation was compared to that of Japan and Manchukuo several several years ago. Dr. Raiguel recalled that II Duce had said of his plans for African expansion, "If I can go in peaceably to assist, fine. I will have to go anyway."

Mussolini considers himself a realist, rather than an imperialist, speaker said with distinction drawn by II Duce is: "An imperialist pushes everyone aside to gain his ends. A realist will not be pushed."

Contrasts Dictators

Contrasting Hitler and Mussolini, Nazism and Fascism, Dr. Raiguel answered questions from the audience.

At the close of his address, Dr. Raiguel answered questions from the audience.

SPEAKER TELLS DUCE'S STAND

"I had rather lead a united people than dictate to a weak people." Thus Benito Mussolini, known as the Italian dictator, summed up his ambition for himself and his native land, in an interview granted Dr. George Earle Raiguel, traveler and authoritative lecturer on international affairs.

These men visited cities throughout California where civil service is now in force. They studied the various methods and sought the aid of city officials in drawing up an ordinance for Santa Ana. This material was presented to City Attorney L. W. Blodget who ironed out the rough spots, choosing only the best parts from various ordinances studied. Save that date!
And by "that date" is meant Saturday afternoon, May 23, when the Santa Ana Valley Ebell club-house will be a gala setting for the annual student loan fete of the Orange county branch, American Association of University Women.

Already Mrs. Grace Knipe, general chairman of the party, is assembling her committees and preparing to launch work on ticket sales and program plans for the fete, proceeds of which will go into a student loan fund to help deserving young people.

Miss Dorothy Decker is chairman of preliminaries, working with Mrs. Rodney Bacon, Miss Mabel Whiting and Mrs. Horace A. Scott.

Mrs. C. C. Briscoe is working as "atmosphere chairman," with Mrs. Elaine A. Dudley, Mrs. Mabel Spizzi and Miss Marjorie Woods as her assistants.

Miss Genevieve Humiston is planning details of the serving duties for the 1 o'clock party. Miss Inez Hickman, Miss Thelma Morehouse and Mrs. R. C. Mixer are her assisting chairmen.

For the bridge plans, Miss Anna L. Trythall is chairman with Miss Ruth Rowland, Miss Lula B. Finley and Miss Margaret Glenn assisting her.

Further details of entertainment for the day will be announced later by Miss Decker, who is releasing publicity for the party.

THELMA TRUMPY TELLS ENGAGEMENT TO LOREN FINLEY

At a party given by herself and her mother, Mrs. Jay Trumdy last evening in the Jay Trumdy home on East Maple street, Orange, Miss Thelma Trumdy told her engagement and autumn wedding date to Loren Finley, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Finley of North Shaffer street, Orange.

The announcement was written in grains of rice on tiny booklets attached to the nutbaskets in the dessert hour, following an evening of playing hearts. Mrs. Joseph Trumdy and Miss Evelyn Kogler won prizes in the game. Bridal appointments were used on the tables.

Among the guests was Mrs. Leeson Pomeroy Jr., (Dorothy Finley), sister of Miss Trumdy's fiance. Both young people attended Orange Union High school, and have a host of friends in southern Orange county.

Other guests invited were Mesdames Ella Finley, Rodney Leonard, James Elliott, Richard Friedemann, and Misses Edna Bandick, Eunice and Vivian Blanchard, Lillian Hansen, Helen Lutes, Selma Friedemann, Inez and Iola Kogler.

NEW HIGH RECORD FOR TOURISTS IN STATE PREDICTED

AUTO DEATHS DECLINE 13 PER CENT

CHICAGO, April 1. (AP)—The National Safety Council's drive to reduce traffic fatalities was given fresh impetus today by a report showing a 13 per cent decline in February deaths.

Although 1936 persons lost their lives in motor vehicle accidents last month, the steepest decrease for any month since 1931 was registered.

The February record offset January's increase and brought 1936 3 per cent under the corresponding total for 1935. The cause of this unusual activity on Bob's account is the fact that there is a young Bob now on the payroll—young Bob having arrived at the hospital last week. Anything that is worth while always costs something, as Bob, sr., has found out in the past week. Therefore his income must also be greater. Twas ever thus.

It can't be done, Mr. Byrne," was the exclamation I heard on passing the Packard agency. "What's the issue?" I inquired of Mr. Byrne, who pointed to his showroom floor and stated that from all those concerned they doubted if the showroom floor could hold over three cars and still give ample room for one to pass through. "You see," said Mr. Byrne, "it's a matter of knowing your angles. This proved to be the case, for in a few minutes five big cars slide into the showroom. And to top off his statement he showed me that there was ample room to spare.

After the recent rain, "Pop" Johnston at the City Service thought it a good idea to give a few pointers on drying plugs and sockets. When a car has stood in the rain for some time, he went on to say, moisture often collects on spark plugs, wire, ignition coils and distributor cap, causing short circuits. Before the motor can be started all such "shorts" must be eliminated.

The quickest and most effective plan is to wipe or fan dry with a clean rag, all affected parts. A nonexplosive cleaning fluid speeds up the drying process if squirted on wires and connections where sparks can be seen jumping.

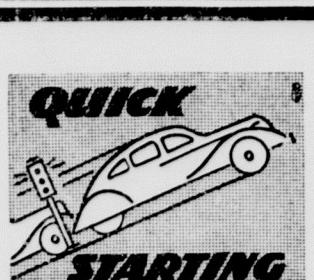

Ben Warner of the Central Auto Body Works, located at 123 South Sycamore, pointed with pride to a neat looking camp trailer in the corner of his large garage, and said, "That trailer has been in service for one year. How does it look?" Going closer I saw that the camp trailer was in perfect condition and showed hardly any wear from the year of hard use it had been through. Every year Ben helps many an amateur builder by showing him how to cut expenses by selecting the right materials. "No, we don't charge a thing to be of assistance to the local builders of these camp trailers," was the answer of my inquiry of how much it might cost for some advice.

ROAD COMPLETED

Surfacing of the 5.8-mile road between Hollister Avenue and Painted Cave road, Santa Barbara, and construction of a timber bridge over San Antonio creek has been completed, it is reported to the Automobile Club of Southern California engineering department.

ROAD FINISHED

Improvement work has been finished on the 1.3-mile road from Death Valley Junction to the easterly boundary of Inyo county, it is reported to the Automobile Club of Southern California touring bureau.

U. S. Automobile Taxes Run Far Above Last Year

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Uncle Sam's "take" in automotive taxes is running far above the total of a year ago. This week the federal bureau of internal revenue disclosed that in January its collections on automotive products rose to $26,025,950 against $20,623,837 in January of last year, an increase of 26.2 per cent.

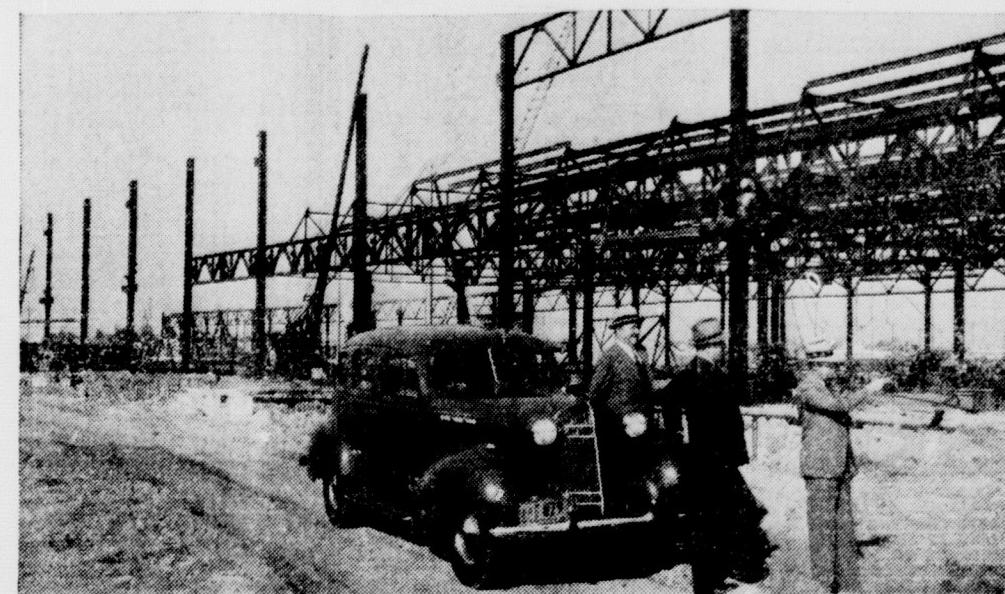

Following is a comparative table of the January automotive tax collections:

	Jan. 1935	Jan. 1936
Motor cars and cycles	$5,663,914	$5,599,509
Tires	1,682,338	1,440,975
Motor parts and accessories	659,342	495,420
Motor trucks	639,625	315,664
Gasoline	3,000,000	2,900,000
Lubricating oil	14,008,584	14,451,107
Pipe line oil shipments	1,981,240	2,184,488
Crude oil processed	946,130	698,012
Total	$26,025,950	$20,623,837

This taxation, of course, is superimposed upon the levies exacted by states, counties and municipalities.

AUTO FINANCE HEARING DUE

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1. (AP)—The assembly interim committee on motor vehicles at its initial meeting went on record as opposing any further increase of any nature of taxes on automobiles.

The assemblymen, William B. Hornblower, San Francisco, Arthur Breed, Oakland, and Frank Laughlin, Los Angeles, named an advisory committee to aid in the formation of motor vehicle legislation.

"Safety has become the dominant factor, the supreme influence, the first consideration, not only in the buying public's mind, but first in the engineering and manufacturing of our present day automobile and truck."

Efficiency, economy and comfort have been the factors on which we determine a car's value, but today they take second place to this vital, necessary requisite—safety! Every item of material, all engineering, all factory procedure and all sales propaganda are influenced by its insistent demand. It is not only a question of how good, but how safe. The question asked today is not how smooth and fast will an auto go, but how quickly can it stop.

In selling an automobile or truck, a salesman does not talk so much about the motor, transmission and clutch, but stresses all steel bodies, rigid frames, low center of gravity, safety glass, puncture-proof tires and most important, four-wheel hydraulic brakes.

The safest type of steering, the most efficient brake lining, the surest type of nonskid for tires, are factors in which manufacturers are most vitally interested. All the brains and genius of a great industry are centered on the one thought: To make the automobile safe for America! Let us as drivers do our part in driving by the good old rule of "Do to others as you would have them do to you"—to make our highways safe for America.

Our committee has received numerous complaints during recent months which indicate the existence of flagrant abuses of the law and imposition of unfair charges on the part of some unscrupulous money lenders," Peyster declared.

"These complaints include such things as compounding of interest and many varieties of padded charges."

READY TO OPEN NEW FORUM

Achievements and policies of the national administration will be detailed this evening at the initial meeting of the newly-organized Political Education forum, at 7:30 o'clock, in the Unitarian church.

Elmer S. Nelson, advisor on four boards under the Wilson administration and professor of finance and commerce at the University of California at Los Angeles, will be the speaker on this program, first of a series of Wednesday evening meetings to continue until the presidential election.

Dealers plan to soon introduce an ordinance in conjunction with User Car Dealers association, similar to the one in effect in San Francisco and Los Angeles, requiring any person desiring to sell used automobiles in Seattle to have an established place of business and to secure a bond in a reasonable amount, probably $1000, to guarantee the customer against fraud, etc. This ordinance is aimed at fly-by-nights and cutbustomers.

The Seattle council is also considering installation of Park-O-Meters, with Traffic Engineer Bolong having put his stamp of approval on the device.

SEATTLE CITY COUNCIL STUDIES CAR PROBLEMS

SEATTLE, April 1.—The city council will soon consider the periodic inspection ordinance based on the Memphis plan, for final passage, with the outlook favorable.

CHINA HIGHWAYS

Rapid progress is being made in the development of highways in China and more than 50,000 miles of roads are now in regular use, according to a report received by the Automobile Club of Southern California.

The famous trans-Atlantic flyer said he hoped to take-off from Dallas during the first week in June on the anniversary of his 1927 non-stop flight from New York to Berlin.

Through these taxes highway users paid 14.4 per cent of all revenue collected. The duplicating federal tax on gasoline again was the most expensive, its $14,008,584 total being more than twice as much as the cost of any other levy reported.

Ben Warner of the Central Auto Body Works, located at 123 South Sycamore, pointed with pride to a neat looking camp trailer in the corner of his large garage, and said, "That trailer has been in service for one year. How does it look?" Going closer I saw that the camp trailer was in perfect condition and showed hardly any wear from the year of hard use it had been through. Every year Ben helps many an amateur builder by showing him how to cut expenses by selecting the right materials. "No, we don't charge a thing to be of assistance to the local builders of these camp trailers," was the answer of my inquiry of how much it might cost for some advice.

It can't be done, Mr. Byrne," was the exclamation I heard on passing the Packard agency. "What's the issue?" I inquired of Mr. Byrne, who pointed to his showroom floor and stated that from all those concerned they doubted if the showroom floor could hold over three cars and still give ample room for one to pass through. "You see," said Mr. Byrne, "it's a matter of knowing your angles. This proved to be the case, for in a few minutes five big cars slide into the showroom. And to top off his statement he showed me that there was ample room to spare.

The Show Goes On

THE HAUPTMANN case is running true to form down to the very last. It has been brutalized and ballyhoed ever since the dramatic discovery of the ransom money to this final reprieve for 48 hours granted by the Mercer county grand jury.

Execution of the Lindbergh baby murderer is now more thoroughly than ever before tangled up in a maze of politics and uncertainty. The grand jurors—by their reprieve—definitely have aligned themselves with Governor Hoffman of New Jersey in discrediting the court that convicted Hauptmann and the United States supreme court which supported the sentence.

Yesterday's last minute stay of the electrocution was a masterpiece in showmanship—whether the grand jurors intended so or not. It was a great climax. Hauptmann's head had been shaved and his trouser leg split to receive the electrodes. The prison clock had ticked to the death hour. Then suddenly—the reprieve and 48 hours more of life!

It is interesting to note that Hauptmann didn't "crack" under the death house strain. He merely sobbed his innocence up to the moment scheduled for his execution. This fact may cause some to wonder if the condemned man is merely stubborn—or if he is really innocent.

Review of the evidence, however, points overwhelmingly to the former German carpenter's participation in the hideous kidnaping and murder of Baby Lindbergh. The evidence is circumstantial—but it was quite conclusive to the jury that tried Hauptmann and to the nation at large.

Human life should not be taken lightly—even by the law. But neither should kidnaping and murder. If the grand jury really has a "new angle" on the Hauptmann case, it had better produce it before the nation loses patience with justice as it is administered in New Jersey.

World Peace

WORLD peace, that elusive, misunderstood, nebulous ideal that is the motive force of scores of international organizations, has a long road ahead of it. But so does constitutional government; so do most of those things thinking people hold precious.

If eternal vigilance is "the price of liberty" it is also the price of most other human advancements; and along with vigilance the price usually entails long suffering and many disappointments met with faith and purpose.

There are some who say world peace is unattainable; as there were those before the Magna Charta and the French revolution who said constitutional government was a nebulous dream.

Nothing in human relations is unattainable that is capable of conception within the human mind, or so the philosophers have assured us.

Some practical minds are afraid that universal peace will always be somebody's pipe dream. Some are not sure that peace is the best thing for the human race. War sharpens man's wits, keeps him valiant and improves the race, some say.

The best answer to this last argument is that commerce and exploration and science and athletics give the race all it needs to contend with to keep it in fighting trim. Modern warfare with its poison gas and its aerial death has little to do with valor and human fitness; it is cowardly and degrading at best.

Universal peace someday must be attained; let's hope it doesn't come on the heels of the race suicide toward which we sometimes seem to be hastening.

We Need Help, Too

LOS ANGELES chamber of commerce went after United States financial aid in a big way at yesterday's meeting in the big metropolis on the Los Angeles and San Gabriel river flood control projects.

Speaking for the chamber, Vice President W. S. Rosecrans said that his organization believes that the United States government should spend $75,000,000 in Los Angeles county because: 1—Heavy rains at times cause serious damage to life and property; 2—Los Angeles county has an assessed valuation of more than three billion dollars and a population of more than 2,000,000; 3—Floods are doubly dangerous because of the mountainous terrain and narrow canyons; 4—The district itself has already spent $60,000,000; 5—The major portion of the mountain watershed in the county is in federal forests; 6—The Los Angeles harbor development is menaced by silting; 7—Water conservation is essential. Mr. Rosecrans also pointed out the flood control work would create an unusual opportunity for common labor by the unemployed.

Los Angeles county is not a bit bashful in asking the federal government to help solve pressing and costly flood problems. Orange county needs the aid, too—and should not hesitate to present its project with vigor and confidence in the ultimate outcome.

Real Americanism

TOLERANCE and free speech are keynotes of a pamphlet on "Americanism" just adopted as a source-book for speeches to schools by the Americanism committee of New York county posts of the American Legion.

The Legion says that, "believing in freedom of speech for others as well as for ourselves, we must not attempt to abuse or silence them. . . Our own history teaches that great and good changes, marking advances in our civilization, have frequently resulted from ideas which, because they were new and different, were rejected by the intolerant."

When the Legion talks in that fashion, stemming back directly to the Declaration of Independence, it is living up to its most patriotic avowals.

Whimsies of O. O. McIntyre

The town is going thoroughly Russian again in its restaurant taste. The furore of eight years ago, when every mid-town block boasted a Muscovite cafe conducted by a royal prince or princess, died as quickly as born. Now the idea attains fresh fury.

It was touched off when Vincent Astor's brother-in-law, Prince Obolensky, sponsored the Maisonneuve Russe in the rejuvenated St. Regis. It was a sort of glorified cakewalk, a throw-back to the days of Moscow's splendor. A borsch and caviar cave that clicked from the kick-off.

The Sherry-Netherland has a like establishment presided over by the celebrated General Lodijsky, who used to receive the bon-tons so graciously at the Russian Eagle, long the leader of this type of eating place. The General is also to reopen the Russian Eagle.

Two other Russian places are being readied on West 57th street and there are already a half dozen in the Grand Central zone. The Russian spots are usually in red and gold, candle lit and featuring unobtrusive accordions and guitarists strolling from table to table.

Two of the most enthusiastic badge collectors in the country are Morton Downey, the tenor, and Joe Laurie, Jr., the comedian. This has been their hobby for a number of years. Downey specializes in police and fire badges and always carries a number in his coat pocket. Laurie, who has worn a cap all his life, plays no favorites, every sort of badge from the celluloid cigarette button to the huge Rotarian symbol is his dish. His vest is usually decorated with a half dozen or so.

Peggy Fears, whose boundless energy seems to include a round of the popular spots nightly, has acquired a thoroughly Tahitian get-up which brings a full and sudden stop to the conversational buzz wherever she appears. Miss Fears' gait is a long stride and she arrives with a swoop, her hair flying, long, thick, loose. Her ensemble is an exotic creation of sequin flowers. And she has been tanned to a Polynesian tint.

Nearly every motion picture star has an almost insurmountable hurdle in recording voice for the talkies. Kay Francis' stammer is the letter s. She cannot make a word with that letter sound right, no matter how hard she tries. So dialogue writers skillfully turn out parts for her that contain the minimum of that fatal letter.

When Percy Hammond was in Hollywood the first time recently he met, among others, Jean Harlow. In the course of conversation Miss Harlow wondered why she could not be a success as a dramatic actress on the stage. With mock gravity, Hammond told her it was because she had no sex appeal. A group of her friends listening in took the observation seriously and went deeply into a discussion. Hammond, not sure whether he was being kidded or not, huffed and puffed, then fled.

According to the account Hoover gave his friends, this is what Landon replied:

"Well, Mr. Hearst wanted me to enter the California field, and in a choice between you and Mr. Hearst I think it best I follow Mr. Hearst's wishes."

HUGHES VERSUS HUGHES

The decision of a New York federal court declaring unconstitutional the embargo on arms sales to Bolivia and Paraguay is going to put Chief Justice Hughes in an exceedingly tough spot.

For Mr. Hughes, while secretary of state, was the author and chief advocate of an act of congress almost identical to the one his colleague on the New York federal bench now has declared unconstitutional.

What Judge Mortimer Byers in New York objected to was the fact that congress delegated the power to embargo arms sales "if the President finds" this is prolonging the war. The delegation of this power, Judge Byers held, was unconstitutional.

The law which Chief Justice Hughes wrote while secretary of state in 1922 specifies that "when the President finds" revolution exists in any Pan-American country he may embargo arms shipments to the revolutionaries.

This is a greater delegation of power, since it gives the President the power of defining what is and what is not a revolution—sometimes an extremely difficult problem.

Legalists of the state and justice departments are determined to throw this test case up to Chief Justice Hughes and see what he thinks of it.

YOUNG DEMOCRATS

Frank Wickham, 34-year-old Sioux Falls, S. D., attorney, probably owes his election as president of the Young Democrats to a group of bearded, barefoot men in homespun clothes. One day last August they tramped into the gay dining room of a leading Milwaukee hotel. They sat down and ordered dinner.

When soup was brought, they frowned, ordered a big punch bowl, poured their individual portions into the common bowl, and all proceeded to eat from that.

When dinner was over, they walked out, picked up band instruments they had left in the lobby, and began to play riotously, while fellowers shouted "We want Wickham!" Wickham for President."

It was Wickham's "Mennonite band" and it helped materially in putting across his election as head of the Young Dems in the face of Jimmy Roosevelt's opposition.

Today Wickham has started a campaign, under Jim Ferley's direction, to line up the youth of the country for Roosevelt.

What Other Editors Say

LATE RAINS ASSURE GOOD HARVEST

(Long Beach Press-Telegram)

March is continuing the fine work that February started in converting what promised to be a season of drought and serious crop losses into one of the best rain years Southern California ever has experienced. April has still to do its bit to round out the record which is not far from the average rainfall for the South Coast. Points to the North report more rain than fell during the exceptional preceding year.

These two seasons well illustrate the variability of California's rains. The year 1934-35 was marked by the regularity of its rainfall; while 1935-36 has been spasmodic and, up to the last few weeks, uncertain.

In each case, however, the outcome was good. As expressed in crops, there will be not much difference, nor in the summer supply of water. In the Sierra region, in fact, the snow pack is greater than for the preceding winter.

Aside from harvest, there will be other highly beneficial returns. The lateness of this end-of-March storm assures a glorious countryside for the late spring and early summer—a bid for tourists; a bid, it may be believed, that will not pass unnoticed.

Californians who wish to see their own state at its best should plan early vacation trips. Yosemite's waterfalls should be exceptional; and in all particulars Nature will provide an attractive setting.

THE N. A. M. AND LOGIC

(San Diego Sun)

The National Association of Manufacturers replies to President Roosevelt's re-employment plea by boasting that the manufacturing industry has provided jobs for 80 per cent of all those newly employed in private industry. Two million additional workers would bring manufacturing employment up to the 1929 maximum.

"It is thus obvious," the N. A. M. argues, "that manufacturing cannot provide work for 9,000,000 or more jobless."

At the same time the N. A. M. demands "curtailment of governmental extravagance."

Their logic is difficult to follow. If the manufacturers have done their utmost to re-employ the jobless they should recognize that the government has no alternative but to take care of those not re-employed until manufacturing and other industry relieve the situation. And the government can hardly do that without indulging in what the N. A. M. calls "extravagance."

Remarkable Remarks

We should get some modern education into prisons, instead of teaching just reading, writing and arithmetic. We should teach aviation, for instance—Arthur T. Lyman, Massachusetts commissioner of correction.

The ladies' aid of the First Methodist church had a very enjoyable meeting yesterday at the hospitable home of Mrs. A. J. Visel on French street. Refreshments, snowy popcorn enough for six, was served in cans the guests dividing into groups.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Tubbs entertained at a family dinner at 1 o'clock yesterday, the day marking Mr. Tubbs' birthday anniversary. The table was prettily decorated and covers laid for 12, including V. V. Tubbs and family and J. W. Tubbs and family.

A number of Miss Sarah Gardner's pupils were heard in a recital last Saturday afternoon at the conservatory studio, the following participating in the program: Fay Johnston, Flora McFadden, Irene Bohn, Waldo Burgess, Vera Henrickson, Felton Brown, Marie Harris, Henrietta Gowen, Hazel Chapman, Esta Barret, Margaret Robertson, Karen Ethel Smiley and Josephine Dean.

The ladies' aid of the First Methodist church had a very enjoyable meeting yesterday at the hospitable home of Mrs. A. J. Visel on French street. Refreshments, snowy popcorn enough for six, was served in cans the guests dividing into groups.

There never was a better mother-in-law than mine, even if she didn't show much enthusiasm when I first began courting her daughter—Gov. James Allred, Texas, proclaiming mother-in-law day.

If the humblest citizen of the District of Columbia is not immune from calling another a crook, a thief or a slunk without being subject to prosecution, why should a member of congress be protected because the same remarks are uttered while standing under the dome of the capitol. U. S. Representative Blanton of Texas.

The victories in Africa are a triumph of Fascist youth. We will face with equal courage a battle against the European lineup—Vezzio Orazi, Italian military leader.

One Man's Opinion

EDITOR'S NOTE—Here is an informative, analytical daily feature on current topics. The opinions expressed in this column are not necessarily the same as those held by The Journal.

In Other Words, Woman's Place Is Where She Chooses

CIVILIZATION moves to further public education was waging its first great battles and one timid college dared to open its doors to women. What are the noises of today compared with those revolutionary ideas?

Because men feel and fear the competition of women they are resentful. "Banish the women from gainful occupation and good times will return." So runs their wail. To show mighty man how arrogant he is the president of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs proposes a day of rest. For one day the 10,000,000 working women of this country would rest on this suggestion. Such a demonstration would paralyze our industrial and commercial life and whimpering men would cry for mercy.

That little college started something a hundred years ago that no opposition can quell. What the ultimate results will be none can say. But while America remains America women will continue to weave the national pattern. Men will take the credit as they always have, and strut their play across the stage. And women will smile, their inscrutable smiles, and the good old world will go spinning down the "ringing grooves" of change.

For the next few days the material appearing in this column will be largely impersonal. The perpetrator of these paragraphs intends to seek the seductive desert rays somewhere in the Imperial valley, which have been recommended as possessing the balm of Gilead and other health resuscitative virtues. It should not require more than a day or so to effect a cure, as it won't take long for the sun's rays to penetrate through my anatomy.

My information is to the effect that Al. G. Barnes' circus management did not like the rain nearly as well as the people of Orange county. Anyway, we've found out the way to break the drought is to bring in a circus.

Had a good chance to get a motorcycle Tuesday morning, but couldn't get any help. Highway Patrolman Oscar Kelly parks his machine at the corner of Fifth and Main and hikes for the morning java, leaving the motorcycle unguarded, except for what the law provides. It seems that was enough. I couldn't persuade anybody to take it off.

May I venture a timid inquiry? Did you leave your shoes at the circus grounds, or bring them home with you?

Ed. Cochems insists that headlight observance is improving and that travel is becoming safer, at least from the extraneous rays of approaching cars, and will I say for him that the patrolmen are doing good work along this line. All right, Ed, it has been said.

Like Banquo's ghost, the Orange county flood control is still with us. If it does not bob up in Orange county it b
